

MARYKNOLL™ Presents

They Killed Sister Dorothy

Gripping murder mystery, true courtroom drama, and cautionary environmental film, this feature documentary examines one soft-spoken American nun's life work with the poor in the rainforest of Brazil, and follows the sensational trials and arrest of the three men who killed her.

Meet David Stang, Dorothy's brother who has devoted the past five years telling the world her story and attending the trials of those accused of ordering or carrying out his sister's cold-blooded murder.

Winner of numerous film festival awards and narrated by Martin Sheen this film is a must-see!

Winner of the Audience Award, the Grand Jury Prize at this year's South by Southwest Film Festival, Silver Hugo Award at the Chicago International Film Festival.

Directed by Daniel Junge; Produced by Henry Ansbacher & Nigel Noble; Co-Producer Marcela Bourseau; Edited by David Coombe; Cinematographers Marcela Bourseau & Daniel Junge; Original Music by Pedro Bromfman; Original Song "Forever" by Bebel Gilberto
